

Guider: Linux Tracing using Python

Friday, September 24, 2021 9:00 AM (45 minutes)

There are various types of user-space tracing programs these days. But they are too versatile and each one has to be installed or difficult to use as a beginner.

This talk introduces Guider that provides various and powerful Linux tracing features using ftrace, ptrace, and procs.

It's repository is <https://github.com/iipeace/guider>.
