

Security Features Update and Comparison

Friday, August 28, 2020 8:40 AM (45 minutes)

Compare the status of GCC and Clang security features, and provide a time to discuss the progress on current work (e.g. auto-variable-initialization, caller-saved register clearing). More work is needed on sanitizers (e.g. bounds checking, arithmetic overflow handling) and Control Flow Integrity.

I agree to abide by the anti-harassment policy

I agree

Primary author: COOK, Kees (Google)

Presenter: COOK, Kees (Google)

Session Classification: GNU Toolchain MC

Track Classification: GNU Toolchain MC