

Functioning temperature range - Warming devices

Friday, 28 August 2020 08:55 (25 minutes)

The thermal framework is only designed to detect and handle hotspot, not coldspot. Some systems need to increase their performance state or leak power to warm some devices which are getting too cold (outdoor devices when night comes). The logic is the mirror of managing hot spots.

I agree to abide by the anti-harassment policy

I agree

Primary author: GOPINATH, Thara (Linaro Inc)

Co-author: LEZCANO, Daniel (Linaro)

Presenters: GOPINATH, Thara (Linaro Inc); LEZCANO, Daniel (Linaro)

Session Classification: Power Management and Thermal Control MC

Track Classification: Power Management and Thermal Control MC